Angelo Mangiarotti

Italian architect, sculptor and designer Angelo Mangiarotti (1921 - 2012) is quoted to have said, "Happiness comes from honesty". A quote that hints to his overall design approach rooted in the firm belief that architecture was a practical discipline and that industrial design was an expression of fine craftsmanship. He wanted each individual material to be respected and to be used in an appropriate and honest way. Beyond his many architectural feats, Mangiarotti's body of work boasts a wide array of creative projects from sculpture, to products and lighting.

Designed in 1968 by Italian architect, sculptor, and designer Angelo Mangiarotti, the Marble collection reimagines bowls and vases as elevated works of art.

Taking inspiration from the sensual materiality of stone, the collection balances out its heaviness with rounded, generous curves and sculptural silhouettes.

Whether standing alone or grouped together, the pieces can transform any dining table setting or window display into something memorable.
