umbo burner

by Timothy Robertson, 2023

Blending architectural details with natural forms, Umbo is designed to gently diffuse your favourite essential oil blends while providing a soft glow from a standard tea light candle. Derived from the whimsical charm of fungi, the Umbo collection captures the essence of simplicity. Named after the raised centre of a mushroom cap, the collection seamlessly blends functional design with the beauty found in the natural world.

timothy robertson

Born and raised in Fremantle, Western Australia, Timothy Robertson is one to watch. His passion for design was sparked at a young age as he frequently found himself in his father's furniture workshop, observing and being inspired by his work.

Tim describes his design approach as authentic, reflecting the teachings and influences from his upbringing. His philosophy and process emphasise storytelling, nostalgia, and purpose, ensuring that each creation possesses a meaningful narrative.

When it comes to materials, Tim favours working with stainless steel, leather, wool, and timber, appreciating their natural beauty and imperfections. He also finds inspiration in the vibrant palettes of the outdoors, particularly in the Australian bush.
