Italian architect, sculptor and designer Angelo Mangiarotti (1921 - 2012) is quoted to have said, "Happiness comes from honesty". A quote that hints to his overall design approach rooted in the firm belief that architecture was a practical discipline and that industrial design was an expression of fine craftsmanship. He wanted each individual material to be respected and to be used in an appropriate and honest way. Beyond his many architectural feats, Mangiarotti's body of work boasts a wide array of creative projects from sculpture, to products and lighting.

Esteemed Italian architect, sculptor, and designer Angelo Mangiarotti first conceived Sfera in 1968 as a striking lamp that seamlessly blends form and function.

Reissued for the first time, the lamp boasts a uniquely quirky and unconventional aesthetic, offering a refreshing addition to modern spaces while paying homage to Mangiarotti's innovative spirit.

Featuring a chromed metal frame and hand-made Italian glass, Sfera emanates a soft glow that creates a soft and serene ambience, adding a touch of personality wherever placed.
